

Lesson 13

READ THESE SENTENCES

Read silently, then read aloud with good phrasing.

1. Samuel T. Orton was an influential neurologist who studied dyslexia.
2. The Soviet Union is a major nuclear power, but it is not yet an affluent area.
3. Constituents are people authorized to make a constitution, or who are empowered to elect someone.
4. Neon lights usually contain a diode.
5. Geostationary satellites travel at the same speed as the Earth rotates, so from here, they appear not to move, or to be stationary.
6. In biology, nucleus means the spherical structure inside a cell that contains genetic material.
7. An antibiotic is a medicine that can destroy the life of certain microorganisms that cause disease.
8. Biomedical research has proven that influenza is caused by a virus, but doctors think meningitis is caused by bacteria.