A Stingray

It isn't difficult to identify a stingray. This fish does look like a big gray disk with a string on one end. You may think you could play Frisbee with him, but don't.

In fact, he may cover himself with mud or sand so that you can't see him.

If he should hit your leg with that string of his, you would cry.

So if you see a stingray in the mud at the bottom of the bay, do not delay your getaway.
