Happy Fellow

Joe is a happy fellow. Today will be his last day on the subway crew. On Monday, he'll occupy a ship's cabin. Joe's glad there will be a window in the cabin so he can see the blue sky on his long slow trip to China.

A recent change in China allows Joe to visit his land. Joe is sure he can identify his mother if he can find her. She couldn't come with him when he had to flee so long ago.

Will she still know who he is?
