It's Friday

It's Friday, and Joe is glad he can get away for the weekend. From behind the wheel of his jeep, he does skip the freeway so that he can go slow on the back road to the coast.

The air is crisp, and Joe is free to soak in the sun. As he is about to cross a creek, Joe does spy a pair of deer. They are a few feet away by a beech tree.

The doe does seem to be a dainty lady in a velvet coat. The buck is sleek and strong. Joe does not try to approach them.

Why not?
