The Potluck

I admit it's "iffy" to go to a potluck and expect a banquet. I don't envy any friend who went to the last one we had. We all bring the best fancy dish we can invent. Father Francis, the one who shouldn't fatten his midriff, had to try them all.

There was Cajun Capon, Spinach Strudel, Jumbo Shrimp Gumbo, and my Citrus Aspic Salad. It was the Polish Possum in a Skillet that did me in. I'd be glad to pin a medal on the one who snuck in the Nutmeg Brandy Toddy.
