Block Watch Program

Steven and Penny had been thrilled with their move, but now they were stunned. Someone had stepped out of the shadows and robbed them in front of their new house.

Friends expressed dismay but shrugged off the event as being something that could be expected in a big city.

Steven and Penny hosted a meeting of all of the people on the street. They discussed what had happened to them. Others told of being attacked. When the meeting ended, a block watch program had been started.
