“Once upon a time” is the way a fairy tale begins. There is often a wicked queen or stepmother or witch. Have you been aware that it is always a woman who is wicked?

This wicked one has a grudge against a victim and will make a lot of problems. The victim is a very pretty and pure young lady who is totally helpless.

In the tale there’s a handsome prince who is also very rich. He rides on a white steed to rescue the lady in distress. They glance at one another and instantly fall in love. They dance at their wedding. And the wicked one is banished from the land.
