State Song

Most states have a state song. The state song of Kansas is “Home On the Range.” It’s a traditional song of the Old West. The melodious tune sticks in your mind.

Can you recall the words? “Oh, give me a home where the buffalo roam, where the deer and the antelope play.”

When we sing it, most of us have an emotional response. I think of a campfire, a blue sky, and grassland. It seems so attractive that I have a longing for my own “home on the range.”

Do you have that kind of reaction?
