The Famous Elephant

Joseph and his nephew went to view Ruby, the famous elephant. She was the biggest animal in the place. Ruby had floppy ears and two long tusks. She tossed hay in the air with her trunk as she began to gyrate around the pen. She didn't exactly smile, but you could tell that she had style.

This elephant knew why we were there. Her keeper brought in a big pad and set it on a stand. He put some pails of paint where Ruby could see them. Then he gave the elephant a brush to hold in her trunk. We waited. The elephant painted. It was amazing!
