READ THIS STORY #2, Advanced

Which Occupation?

Philip needed to think about his future. His father was a successful and very rich man. He hoped that Philip would take over the company and follow in his steps.

It was a respectable occupation. It provided a product that would always be needed. Philip wouldn't have to do tough physical work. He would have some stature in the community. His future would be secure.

But Philip couldn't picture himself spending all of his life manufacturing dentures.
